

Issues in Law and Medicine Policy for Human Subject Research

Issues in Law and Medicine does not ordinarily publish manuscripts based on human subject research. However, the editors may consider human subject research manuscripts where documentation of compliance with Federal requirements for the Protection of Human Subjects is clearly demonstrated.

If your research involves human subjects we will need your acknowledgement that your research has been conducted in compliance with Title 45 Subtitle A Subchapter A Part 46 Protection of Human Subjects. This acknowledgement must be given prior to beginning the submission of your manuscript via Scholar One.

In addition, research involving human subjects must be submitted to an Institutional Review Board. ILM will need you to upload documentation of the decision of an IRB when you are uploading your manuscript to Scholar One. Failure to include documentation of IRB review will result in an inability to publish your manuscript.

By submitting my manuscript, I acknowledge that my human subject research has been conducted in accordance with Title 45 Subtitle A Subchapter A Part 46 Protection of Human Subjects.
